

→ Become an Aquifer Reseller!

What is Aquifer?

Aquifer™ is fully-featured content management designed in cooperation with designers and intended for use by designers and their clients. We spent many long hours making it not only technically strong, but also professional-looking and intuitive for you and your clients.

Aquifer's features include:

- Preservation of design through strict adherence to templates and stylesheets
- Secure file library for storing authorized images
- Unlimited templates and stylesheets per website
- Multiple website control (sites can share single-sourced content)
- Unlimited content contributors through a regular browser interface
- Non-technical content and page maintenance and creation
- Flexible workflow

Aquifer was recently selected by the Association of Professional Design Firms to power its public site. To learn why, schedule a private demo by calling 877.806.1274.

Good for Your Client – Profitable for You

Aquifer is content management you can be proud of. It does all the things a great content management package should do, it's built on a stable platform with stable technologies, and the application is rock solid. You can always feel confident recommending it to your clients.

We also compensate our resellers 20% of the Aquifer software purchase price for every sale each participates in. The Web NOW! Leasing Plan also lets your smaller clients get up and running for as little as $1000/month payments.

What's the Next Step?

We'd love to explore the possibility with you of becoming an Aquifer reseller. We know seeing is believing, so give us a call and we will arrange a full demonstration of the Aquifer software, so you can see it really does keep its promises. There is also additional information about Aquifer on our web site: www.aquifercms.com.

There's no cost to you to become a reseller, so let's talk about it and see if we have a match.

Call us toll-free at 877.806.1274 for more information and to schedule an Aquifer demo.